8:15 a.m. – 8:25 a.m. Welcome and Admin

8:25 a.m. – 8:45 a.m. Keynote Introductions: General Lori Robinson, Commander, NORAD-USNORTHCOM

8:45 a.m. – 9:00 a.m. Networking Break/Transition to Breakout Sessions

9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. Breakout Track Sessions – Part I

Track A: One Size Does NOT Fit All: Finding Common Ground along the Continuum of Public-Private Integration

Are you trying to establish a disaster-oriented public-private partnership but overwhelmed by the variety of models available? This session will explore the continuum of public and private sector integration by examining different adaptable models, from loose and informal partnerships to full Emergency Support Function representation. Together we can find common ground and help you identify the best fit to bring businesses and governments together to benefit whole communities when they need it most. (Room D)

Track B: The Launch: Leveraging Best Practices to Start Public-Private Partnerships

Many public-private partnerships have difficulty getting started. Once the need for a public-private partnership has been identified, what are the next steps to bring the project to fruition? This session will provide a snapshot of how to effectively launch a public-private partnership and identify best practices for long term success. (Room E)

Track C: Countering Violent Extremism through Partnerships

This session will highlight three partnerships that address violent extremism. Experts from the private sector, including EdVenture Partners, Mall of America and Affinis Labs will highlight their ongoing projects and lessons learned in addressing this current national challenge. (Room F)

Track D: Cyber Resilience in an Interconnected World: Horizon Scanning

Reputation. Intellectual property. National security. Business continuity. These are just a few reasons why everyone needs to take on an active role in their organization’s cybersecurity, from the C-Suite to the staff level. As you invest in modernizing your systems and tools, how do you build in resilience against new cyber-based threats? This session discusses what we might expect in the next few years, along with strategies for building cyber resilience into our infrastructure. (Room G)

10:30 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.  Networking Break/Transition to Plenary Session

11:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.  Plenary Keynote: Secretary of Defense Ashton B. Carter

11:30 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.  Plenary: Our Evolving Threat Environment
Following a video from NORAD-USNORTHCOM, public and private sector panelists will speak to particular threats and hazards facing our nation.

12:30 p.m. – 1:45 p.m.  Lunch Keynote: Public-Private Partnering to Detect and Disrupt Insider or Outsider Perpetrated Violence.  Dr. John Nicoletti, Co-Founder, Nicoletti-Flater Associates
John Nicoletti is a national expert in police psychology, violence risk assessment, workplace/school violence prevention, crisis intervention, and trauma recovery.

1:45 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.  Networking Break/Transition to Breakout Sessions

2:00 p.m. – 3:30 p.m.  Breakout Track Sessions – Part II
These sessions will differ from the a.m. sessions by focusing on audience participation to brainstorm and learn “how to” improve partnerships in the various topic areas. The results from these sessions will be briefed on Wednesday.

Track A: Bringing it All Together: A Business Emergency Operations Center (BEOC) Workshop
Building, sustaining, and maturing a Business Emergency Operations Center (BEOC) can be a daunting task. This session welcomes state and local governments, as well as private sector community leaders who want to work together to help their organizations and communities prepare for, respond to, and recover from disasters. The group will examine common processes and resources for building a BEOC, to which participants can provide feedback and input in creating a truly collaborative set of guidance. (Room D)

Track B: Starting PPPs: It’s Time to Partner
Public-Private Partnerships, Private-Public Partnerships, PPPs, P3s, the Ps, P-Soup—we’ve heard them all, but how do you actually start a public-private partnership? This session will walk participants through tangible steps on how to build and sustain a P3, with a focus on identifying projects, partners, and funding sources. (Room E)

Track C: How to Partner to Counter Violent Extremism
What can we do within our respective communities to not only counter violent extremism but also workplace violence in general? This session will facilitate discussion, identify challenges, and develop broad action steps for building on the type of partnerships discussed in the morning session and during the keynote lunch. (Room F)
Track D: Planning for Resilience in an Interconnected World: Innovation
This session invites participants to join a facilitated discussion on innovative approaches to solving some of the sticky challenges facing communities and organizations today, as they face the physical and cyber security and resilience challenges of an interconnected world. The discussion will kick off with a presentation on one of the winning ideas from the 2016 National Infrastructure Protection Plan Critical Infrastructure Resilience and Security Challenge. (Room G)

3:30 p.m. – 3:45 p.m. Networking Break/Transition to Plenary Session

3:45 p.m. – 4:45 p.m. Plenary: Leveraging Technologies to Engage Public-Private Communities
If necessity is the mother of invention, then crisis can be the parent of innovation. Beyond day-to-day corporate social responsibility, the most innovative and responsible corporate cultures see a disaster or other major event as an opportunity to share those innovative technological resources where there is the greatest need. This panel will provide an opportunity for participants to hear best practices from major retailers, technology, and supply chain companies on how they utilize technology to engage public-private communities.

4:45 p.m. – 5:15 p.m. Closing Keynote: Ed Anderson (Lieutenant General, US Army Retired), Executive Director, Strategic Military, Science, Space and Security Initiatives University of Colorado Colorado Springs and Interim Executive Director, National Cybersecurity Center (NCC); Erik Mitisek, Chief Innovation Officer, State of Colorado

5:15 p.m. – 5:30 p.m. Day One Wrap-Up

6:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m. Social sponsored by the Colorado Emergency Preparedness Partnership (CEPP), Cheyenne Mountain Lodge (Broadmoor Hotel);
